THE PUBLIC THIEVES.

Speech of Mr. Dawes on Corruption in Contracts for the Army.

Mr. Speaker, though I have spent the better part of my Congressional life upon investigating committees, no one was ever yet raised upon my motion, no resolution was ever carried upon my motion calling for inquiry, no motion was ever made by me, the result of which has been an investigation by this House, and yet I have felt that it was proper for me to speak, in order to decline the service that has been imposed upon me. But I felt again that it was incumbent upon me to discharge it fearlessly and cheerfully, however much mortification and discomfiture might come from it.

Sir, I have not failed to notice, and I believe the committee of which I am a member have not failed to notice, in common with the whole country, that for some unaccountable reason the charges upon the national treasury, at this time of war, have been such as to reach nearly the bottom of the public chest. During our investigation startling facts have come before the notice of this committee, and to the notice of the whole country, touching the mode and manner of the expenditure of the public money. Some of these items I propose to call public attention to, and then to ask gentlemen the plain question, when they purpose to meet this question, if at all, and if so, how, when and where. The very first contract entered into by this government, after the troops had left their homes to come here in April last, to defend the Capitol, by which they were to be fed, was a contract entered into for cattle. It was not made with a man whose business it was to supply cattle to the market, not with a man who knew the price of beef in the markets of the country, but was entered into by the government here with a man well known in this, and in the other branch of Congress, for the last ten years, as an old political stipendiary—one of the class of men who, in times past, made their money by such operations as buying the certificates of members for books at a discount and then charging the full amount. This contract was made so that the first twenty-two hundred head of cattle furnished was charged at a rate which enabled their original contractor to sub-let it, in twenty-four hours after, to a man in New York who did know the price of beef, so that he put into his pockets, without stirring from his chair, thirty-two thousand dollars, and the men who actually furnished the cattle in question put into their pockets twenty-six thousand dollars more, so that the contract under which these twenty-two hundred head of cattle were furnished to the army was so made that the profit of fifty-eight thousand dollars was realized over the fair market price. It takes a longer time to enable a thousand head of cattle to reach this city from the States where they are purchased than it takes the army to consume them. I ask the House, at this rate, to consider how long the most ample provision of the Treasury would be able to meet the simple demands for the subsistence of the army. Sir, poorly as the army is shod to-day, a million more are being manufactured, and yet upon every one of these shoes there has been a waste of seventy-five cents. Three quarters of a million of dollars have been already worn out, and another three quarters of a million of dollars upon shoes is now being manufactured. In that department of the government, contracts have been so plenty that government officials have gone about the streets with their pockets filled with them, and of which they made presents to the clergymen of their parishes, and with which were healed old political sores and cured political feuds. Even the telegraph has announced that high public functionaries have graced the love feasts which were got up to celebrate these political reconciliations, thus brought about while the hatchet of political animosity was buried in the grave of public confidence, and the national credit crucified amongst malefactors. We have reported to us the first fruits of one of these contracts. A regiment of cavalry lately reached Louisville, one thousand strong, and the board of army officers there appointed for the purpose have condemned four hundred and eighty-five out of the thousand horses as utterly worthless. The man who examined these horses declared, upon his oath, that there was not one of them that was worth twenty dollars. They were blind, spavined, ringboned, afflicted with the heaves, with the glanders, and with every disease that horse-flesh is heir to. These four hundred and eighty-five horses cost the government, before they were mustered into the service, fifty-eight thousand two hundred dollars, besides more than an additional thousand dollars to transport them from Pennsylvania to Louisville, where they were condemned and cast off.

Mr. MALLORY (Union,) of Ky., asked what regiment these horses belonged to and who furnished them?

Mr. DAWES—They belonged to Col. Williams' regiment of cavalry, and they were purchased in Pennsylvania, from which state they were forwarded to Louisville, where they were condemned. There are eighty-three regiments of cavalry to-day, one thousand strong. It takes two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to put one of these regiments on foot before it moves. Twenty million of dollars have thus been expended on these cavalry regiments before they left the encampments where they were mustered into service, and hundreds and hundreds of these horses have been condemned and sent back to Elmira, and to Annapolis, and to this city, to spend the winter. Any day hundreds of them can be seen round this city, chained to trees, where they were left to starve to death. Gangs of two hundred horses, in various places, have been thus left to die and rot, till the Committee on the District of Columbia have called for a measure of legislation to protect the city from the danger to be apprehended from these horse Golgothas. An ex-Governor of one State offered an ex-Judge of another State five thousand dollars to get him permission to raise one of these regiments of cavalry, and when the ex-Judge brought back the commission the ex-Governor takes it to his room at the hotel, while another plunderer sits at the key-hole watching like a mastiff while he inside counts up forty thousand dollars profit on the horses, and calculate twenty thousand dollars more upon the accoutrements and on the other details of furnishing these regiments. In addition to the arms in the hands of six hundred thousand soldiers in the field, there are numerous outstanding contracts, made with private individuals—not made upon advertisement, not made with the knowledge of the public, but made by ex-members of Congress, who knew no more of the difference between one class of arms and another than does a Methodist minister. There are outstanding contracts for the manufacture of Springfield muskets, the first one of which cannot be delivered in six months from this day. There is a contract for the supply of one million and ninety muskets, at twenty-eight dollars apiece, when the same quality of muskets are manufactured at Springfield for thirteen and a half apiece; and an ex-member of Congress is now in Massachusetts, trying to get machinery made by which he will be able in six months hence, to furnish at 21 dollars apiece, those rifled muskets manufactured to-day in that armory for thirteen dollars and a half. Providence, before six months, will dispose of this war, or He will dispose of us. Not one of those muskets thus contracted for will be of the slightest service in this emergency, or before the providence of God whether for good or for evil will dispose of it. I ask my friends from the North and Northwest how they expect to benefit by an armory at Chicago, at Rock Island, and at Quincy, when a million and ninety-two thousand muskets will, according to this contract, be thrown upon the country, and that after the war is over, and at such an enormous price, in addition to other outstanding contracts for the manufacture, sometime hence, of two hundred and seventy-two thousand Enfield rifles. Besides these are seventy-five thousand five hundred and forty-three sets of harness, to be delivered by and by, at the cost of one million nine hundred and seventy-eight thousand four hundred and forty-six dollars. I have not time to enumerate all these contracts. When we appropriated, at the last session of Congress, for this purpose, twenty millions of dollars, thirty-seven millions and some thousand dollars had been already pledged to contractors—not for the purchase of arms for the men in the field, nor to protect them in fighting their country's battles in this great emergency and peril, but for some future use, for some future occasion, or to meet some present need of the contractors, I don't know which at this moment. And not only the appropriation of last session has been exhausted, but seventeen millions put upon it. The riot of the 19th of April in Baltimore opened this ball, and on the 21st of April, in the city of New York, there was organized a corps of plunderers of the Treasury. Two millions of dollars were entrusted to a poor, unfortunate, honest, but entirely incompetent editor of a paper in New York, to dispense it in the best manner he could. Straightway this gentleman began to purchase linen pantaloons, straw hats, London porter, dried herrings, and such like provisions for the army, till he expended in this way three hundred and ninety thousand dollars of the money, and then he got scared and quit. (Laughter.)—There is an appropriation, also, for the supply of wood to the army. This contractor is pledged the payment of seven dollars a cord for all the wood delivered to the different commands; wood collected after the labor of the soldiers themselves had cut down the trees to clear the ground for the batteries; and then this contractor employs the army wagons to draw it to the several camps, and he has no further trouble than to draw his seven dollars for a cord, leaving the government to draw the wood. (Laughter.)—It costs two millions of dollars every day to support the army in the field. A hundred millions of dollars have thus been expended since we met on the 22d day of December, and all that time the army has been in repose. What the expenditure will increase to when that great day shall arrive when our eyes shall be gladdened with a sight of the army in motion, I do not know. Another hundred millions will go with the hundreds more I have enumerated. Another hundred millions may be added to those before the 4th of March.

What it may cost to put down the rebellion I care very little, provided, always, that it be put down effectually. But, sir, faith without works is dead, and I am free to confess that my faith sometimes fails me, I mean my faith in men, not my faith in the cause. When the history of these times shall be written, it will be a question upon whom the guilt will rest most heavy—upon him who has conspired to destroy, or upon him who has proved incompetent to preserve, the institutions bequeathed to us by our fathers. It is no wonder that the public treasury trembles and staggers like a strong man with too great a burthen upon him. A strong man in an air exhausted receiver is not more helpless to-day than is the treasury of this government beneath the exhausting process to which it is subjected. The mighty monarch of the forest himself may hold at bay the foremost, mightiest of his foes, while the vile cur coming up behind him and opening his fangs gives him a fatal wound, and although he may struggle on boldly and valiantly, the life blood is silently trickling from his heart, and he is at last forced to loosen his grasp, and he grows faint, and falters and dies. The Treasury notes issued in the face of these immense outlays, without a revenue from custom houses, from land sales, from any source whatever, are beginning to pall in the market. Already have they begun to sell at six per cent. discount at the tables of the money changers; at the very time, too that we here exhibit the singular spectacle of fraud, and of a struggle with the Committee of Ways and Means itself, in an endeavor to lift up and sustain the government of the country. Already the sutler—that curse of the camp—is following the paymaster, as the shark follows the ship, buying up for four dollars every five dollars of the wages of the soldiers paid to them in Treasury notes. I have no desire to hasten the movements of the army, or to criticise the conduct of its leaders, but in view of the stupendous drafts upon the Treasury, I must say I long for the day of striking the blow which will bring this rebellion to an end. Sixty days longer of this state of things will bring about a result one way or other. It is impossible that the Treasury of the United States can meet, and continue to meet, this state of things sixty days longer, and an ignominious peace must be submitted to unless we see to it that the credit of the country is sustained, and sustained, too, by the conviction going forth from this hall to the people of the country that we will treat as traitors, not only those who are bold and manly enough to meet us face to face in the field of strife, but all those also who clandestinely and stealthily suck the life-blood from us in this mighty struggle. Whatever measures may emanate from the Committee of Ways and Means to meet and retrieve this state of things, they will but fall like a dead pall upon the public unless they give this assurance, that these extraordinary and extreme measures to resuscitate, revive and replenish the treasury, are not made to fill farther and longer the already gorged pockets of the public plunderers. How, then, are we to contribute in this matter to revive public confidence in our public men here, if it be not when these appropriations come up that we probe them, that we ascertain whether there be any thing in them that at this moment can be spared. Our pressing duty now is to protect and save the treasury from further wholesale or other system of plundering. In conclusion, he argued against paying for printing the Treasury notes, on the ground that the contract was improperly obtained.

CURIOUS.—Eight years ago the wife of John Lawborough, of Pink prairie, in this county, died, and was buried there. A short time since it became desirable to take up and remove the remains of Mrs. L, and last week Mr. D. L. Smith, of this place, was employed to perform the labor. The grave was opened, and the coffin which was in a state of perfect preservation, was removed; but before depositing it in the new place, it was concluded to open it, especially as it appeared uncommonly heavy. It was, therefore, opened, and the body of Mrs. L. was found to be perfectly petrified; every part being as full and fair as on the day of her burial, eight years ago, except the lower part of the face and the hands, which were partially decayed. Her limbs, breast and every part, with the above exceptions, were solid stone, and as fair and perfect as when she died. The soil of the garve was clay, and possessed no peculiarities that were discernible. This is an uncommon case, and, withal, a curious one. We get these facts from Mr. Smith, the sexton. —Genessee (Ill) Republican.

John Randolph Outdone.

Of the many anecdotes of this eccentric man of Roanoke, we don't believe the following was ever in print:

He was traveling in a part of Virginia with which he was unacquainted. In the meantime, he stopped during the night at an inn near the forks of the road. The innkeeper was a fine old gentleman, and no doubt of one of the first families of the Old Dominion. Knowing who his distinguished guest was, he endeavored to draw him into conversation, but failed in all his efforts. But in the morning, when Mr. Randolph was ready to start, he called for his bill, which on being presented, was paid. The landlord, still anxious to have some conversation with him, began as follows:

"Which way are you traveling, Mr. Randolph?"

'Sir!" said Randolph, with a look of displeasure.

"I asked," said the landlord, "which way are you traveling?"

"Have I paid my bill?"

"Yes."

"Do I owe you anything more?"

"No."

"Well, I am going just where I please—do you understand?"

"Yes.'

The landlord by this time got somewhat excited, and Mr. Randolph drove off. But to the landlord's surprise in a few minutes the servant returned to enquire which of the forks of the road to take. Randolph not being out of hearing distance, the landlord spoke at the top of his voice.

"Mr. Randolph, you don't owe me one cent! just take which road you please."

It is said that the air turned blue with the curses of Randolph.

A REAL INCIDENT.

In the autumn of 1823, a man was descending the Ohio river, with three small children in a canoe. He had lost his wife, and with the emigrating spirit of our people, was transferring his all to another country where he might again begin the world.

Arriving toward evening at a small island, he landed them for the night. After remaining a short time, he determined to visit the opposite shore, for the purpose, probably, of purchasing provisions; and telling his children that he would soon return to them, he paddled off, leaving them alone on the island. Unfortunately, he met with some loose companions on the shore who invited him to drink. He became intoxicated, and in attempting to cross the river after night was drowned. The canoe floated away, and no one knew of the catastrophe until the following day.

The poor deserted children in the meanwhile wandered about the uninhabited island, straining their little eyes to get a glimpse of their father. Night came, and they had no fire or food —no bed to rest upon, no parent to watch over them. The weather was extremely cold, and the elder child, though but eight years of age, remembered that persons who slept in the cold were sometimes chilled to death. She continued to wander about, and when the younger children were worn out with fatigue and drowsiness, and were ready to drop into slumber, she kept them awake by telling them amusing or alarming stories. At last nature could hold out no longer, and the little ones, chilled and aching with cold, threw themselves on the ground. Then the sister sat down, and spreading out her garments as wide as possible, drew them into her lap and endeavored to impart the warmth of her own bosom, as they slept sweetly on her arms.

Morning came, and the desolate children sat on the shore weeping bitterly. At length they were filled with joy at the sight of a canoe approaching the island. But they soon discovered that it was filled with Indians, their delight was changed into terror, and they fled into the woods. Believing that the savages had murdered their father and were now coming to seek them, they crouched under bushes, hiding in breathless fear, like a brood of young partridges.

The Indians having kindled a fire, sat down around it and began to cook their morning meal; and the eldest child, as she peeped from her hiding place, began to think they had not killed their father. She reflected that they must inevitably starve, if left on this lone island; while on the other hand there was a possibility of being kindly treated by the Indians. The cries, too, of her brother and sister, who had been begging piteously for food had pierced her heart and awakened all her energy. She told the little ones, over whose feeble minds her fine spirit had acquired an absolute sway, to get up and go with her; then taking a hand of each she fearlessly led them to the Indian camp fire. Fortunately the savage understood our language, and as the little girl explained to them what had occurred, they received the deserted children kindly, and conducted them to the nearest of our towns, where they were kept by some benevolent people until their own relations claimed them.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Lest there should be any weak-kneed Democrats, whose patriotic impulses incline them to enter the trap about to be set by the Republican leaders, we direct their attention to the following terms of admission to the new party, as stated in the columns of the Harrisburg Telegraph.

"One thing is certain, that between the avowed and fearlessly sustained principles of the entire Republican party and a large portion of what was formerly the Democratic party, there was no important difference, either in the purposes to be attained or the manner of their attainment. Therefore, a union with that wing of the Democracy is of the most simple as well as practical character. It requires no invitation on the part of the Republican party, provided the men who thus boast of their adhesion to a principle are honest, and if there is any renunciation to be made, it must be declared by these same Democrats, who would be expected to give up all their own preference with regard to men, all their corrupt predilections on the subject of the organizations, and come into the enthusiastic ranks of the Republican party, with those principles of high regard for the Union and respect for the Constitution, which have so far rendered these men decent in the eyes of their countrymen, and which act would give them a position in the politics of the Union which no struggle or covenant of their own, as a separate organization, could possibly accomplish. But to ask the Republican party to give up one idea of its sublime principles—to ask them to surrender a single feature of its creed or compromise its organization to conciliate any man or set of men, would be as ridiculous and as unholy as the emendation of the Lord's prayer, by omitting the injunction against stealing to conciliate the thief, or that on murder to compromise with the assassin."

We commend the above to the particular consideration of the Union Democrats in the House of Representatives, who were treated to so many soagry words before the officers and patronage of the Legislature were distributed. The terms of admission to the new party are quite easy, providing the applicants are honest —that point is insisted upon—and are willing to give up their principles and come into the Republican party. Of course there will be a perfect rush for admission upon such accommodating terms. We think that we see Democrats by scores and by hundreds petitioning for admission into the Republican organization revised and approved.—Patriot and Union.

VISITING SCHOOLS.

"——Most poor matters Point to rich ends." Shakspeare.

The teacher and parent sustain a near relation to each other; and they, in their respective capacities from and build up the mind that is to sway a powerful influence throughout future generations. They both have a great work to do, and their stations are fraught with great responsibilities. When the child leaves the parental roof and is under the care of the teacher, the parent's obligations do not necessarily all devolve on the teacher. 'Tis true, the teacher is recognized in loco parentis, but to him are not delegated all the duties and responsibilities of the parent. The parent has still a task to perform, and one which is so very much neglected, viz: visiting his children at school. We believe it to be the imperative duty of all parents to visit the schools, but how few consider it such! Every where we hear teachers complaining that their schools are not visited by the parents of children under their care, and the teachers naturally infer that none are interested in their work but themselves, and become discouraged.

But some persons look upon the school room as a kind of reserved place, into which none but the teacher and pupils are allowed to enter. This is a fatal mistake. Our schools are emphatically free schools; free and common to all; and all have, or should have, a common interest in their wellfare. For four long months the teacher is impounded with his pupils and it is a matter of surprise, if, during all that time, a single parent find his way to the school-room to impart a word of encourgement, or by his presence to indicate that he has an interest in what is there transpiring. In fact parents have no idea of what is being done in the schoolroom, except what they gather from report—which is often exaggerated and untrue,—and if the teacher is not of the right stamp, if he performs not his whole duty toward his pupils, their education, moral, physical, and intellectual, will be wofully neglected.

"But," says a teacher, "my school is occasionally visited, for it was but the other day that Mr. SENSITIVE came flying in, and, because I had taken occasion to rightfully punish his son John, was so enraged that he threatened my very existence as a teacher." Such unlawful visitations should not be tolerated by the teacher, and much less attempted by the parents. Let them come, not for the purpose of intimidating the teacher on account of some imaginary wrong which he has committed to their children, but to examine for themselves the machinery of the school room, and see whether these things are so"; and they will go away, pleased with their visit, and convinced that the teacher is a reasonable being after all, and not such a cruel monster as some would represent him to be.

What an amount of misrepresentation would be checked if the schools were visited by the parents! What an encouragement it would be to the pupils to see that their parents are really interested in their going to school; and what a stimulus to greater exertion to the teacher, to have the assurance that his labors are appreciated! It would be a ray of sunshine to the pupil, illuminating his dark path up the rugged steeps of the Hill of Science!

Parents should make it their duty to visit the school regularly; and nothing would be more gratifying to the teacher than to see one or more of them at his school every day. They will be most cordially welcomed, both by the teacher and pupils.

Parents, try it! It is a simple experiment and will cost you nothing but a little time, which you cannot better employ; and the result will far exceed your most sanguine anticipations. Its influence will be as "bread cast upon the waters, that shall return to us after many days."

RURAL.

A WARNING TO TEACHERS.

Fellow teachers, be careful of fire!—Last night, about two hours after returning to bed, my peaceful slumbers were disturbed by the cry of fire. The gentleman with whom I am boarding heard the barking of his dog, and supposing something to be wrong about the barn, arose and went to the window to see what was the matter, and noticed what appeared to be a building on fire. When he first saw the reflection of the light, he thought his barn was on fire; but on going out he beheld my schoolhouse enveloped in flames. He instantly gave the alarm; but it was too late to save any thing, as the roof was then falling in. We have no idea how the building caught fire, unless it was from some wood that had been placed about the stove to dry for the purpose of making a fire in the morning. It was a neatly built log house, situated on a beautiful eminence, one and a half miles from Hopewell, and about a quarter of a mile from Esquire Thomas W. Horton's. It was called Mount Pleasant, from the beautiful senery which surrounded it. I had been teaching one month and fifteen days, and had nineteen as bright scholars as ever entered a school-room. They always came with their lessons prepared and their youthful faces glowing with smiles until yesterday morning. I have witnessed touching scenes, but none so pitiful as a group of scholars standing around the ruins of their schoolhouse, giving vent to their feelings in tears and sobs. Fellow teachers, once more I entreat you, to be careful of fire.

GOV. LETCHER'S MESSAGE.

On the 6th inst. Gov. Letcher, of Virginia, sent his message to the legislature of the State, accompanied with a letter from Governor Brown, and the joint resolutions recently adopted by the Legislature of Georgia, in which they declare that the separation of the latter State "is final and irrevocable, entertain any proposition from any quarter which may have for its object a restoration or reconstruction of the old Union on any terms or conditions whatever."

The message is an extraordinary "State paper;" a portion of it imitates the style of our Declaration of Independence, substituting the name of President Lincoln for George the Third, in setting forth his grievances.—The Governor is full of fight, and manifests a spirit of reckless daring and a determination to conquer or die. One of his closing paragraphs is the following:

"The occurrences of the past nine months have demonstrated conclusively that we cannot live together as equals under the Government of the United States, and the habitual violation of the provisions of the Constitution, and the open disregard of the laws by President Lincoln and his official, render governmental association between us impossible. Mutual confidence has been succeeded by mutual hatred and aversion. No government can be enduring which does not possess the affection and respect of the governed. It cannot be that the people of the Confederate States can again entertain a feeling of affection and respect for the Government of the U. States. We believe, therefore, separation is and ought to be final and irrevocable'—that Virginia will, under no circumstances, entertain any proposition, from any quarter, which may have for its object a restoration or reconstruction of the late Union, on any terms and conditions whatever."

A Cheap Breakfast.

A son of Erin, at Schenectady, heard the breakfast bell ring on board a canal boat just starting out for Buffalo. The fragance of the viands induced him to go aboard.

"Sure, Captain, dear, (said he,) and what'll ye ax a man for travellin' on yer illegand swan of a boat?"

'Only a cent and a half a mile, and found," replied the captain.

"An' is it the vittals ye mean to find, sure?"

"Yes. And if you are going along, go down to breakfast."

Pat didn't wait to be told a second time, but having descended into the cabin and made a hearty meal, he came on deck and requested that the boat might be stopped.

"What do you want to stop for?" inquired the captain.

"How far have we come?" asked Pat.

"Only a little over a mile."

Pat thereupon handed the captain two cents, and coolly told him that he believed he would not go any further with him, as Judy would wait the breakfast, not knowing that he had breakfasted out.

The joke was so good that the captain took the two cents, ordered the boat stopped, helped Pat ashore, and told him that should he ever have occasion to travel that way again he would be most happy to carry him.

SCENE IN A SANCTUM.—Enter a large strong man, with a cow-hide in hand.

"Is the editor in?"

"He is."

"You?"

"Yes."

"I have come to settle with you."

'Well, (editor draws a revolver,) go a head.'

"I have taken your paper now about a year."

"Well (Capping his pistol.)

"An article in your last issue, (editor cocks his pistol,) has convinced me, sir, that—you —need—

"I deny your right to give it—be cautious, sir."

"Give you what?"

"A thrashing."

"Why, no, my dear sir, I came to pay in advance for another year."

The editor wilted.

☞Where did you get that turkey?" said Col. Billy Wilson to one of his amiable recruits, who came into camp the other day with a fine bird. "Stole it," was the laconic answer. "Ah," said the Colonel triumphantly to a bystander," you see my boys may steal, but they won't lie."

Flattery is like a flail, which, if not adroitly used, will box your own ears, instead of tickling those of the corn.

A Wrong Made Right.

We are not, nor is it necessary on any account that we should be, the personal champion, eulogist or apologist of Hon. JOHN CESSNA, but we feel it to be our duty to applaud the conduct of that gentleman in the good fight he has fought for the rights of the people of Bedford county. A great wrong, an outrageous fraud had been committed upon our people, by political tricksters, in connecting Bedford with Somerset in the apportionment of 1857, for members of the House of Representatives. There was but a very slight difference in the number of taxables of the two counties, and the legislature, by giving two members to the district, conceded that each county was entitled to a member. But in order to make good use of the large Republican majority in Somerset county, in other words, to put it within the power of that majority to elect two members instead of one as it had formerly done, the two counties were hitched together to elect their representatives in common. This was intended not only to elect two Republican members, but also to defeat the choice of the people of Bedford county. Our people were to be rendered practically voiceless in the popular branch of the General Assembly. Under this apportionment it was a certain and fixed impossibility to have any other representation of our county at Harrisburg, except such as the people of Somerset county in their superior knowledge of our local interests and their undoubted generosity in political matters, should see fit to grant us. In fact, old Bedford—the mother of counties—was disfranchised and made a mere dependency, or appendage of her daughter Somerset. Thus the voters of Bedford county, though they went to the polls from time to time and indicated their choice for representatives by decided majorities, were always overruled in their preferences by the voters of Somerset. In 1857, 1858, 1859, and 1860, Bedford county cast a majority of her votes for candidates whose election was defeated only by the people of Somerset. Not once, until now, did the candidate who was the choice of the majority in this county, obtain a seat in the House. Not once since the passage of the apportionment bill of 1857, were the people of Bedford county represented in the legislature, by the man chosen by their votes. Was not this monstrous? Was it not really the most abject political slavery to which one people can bind another? Yet there are those to be found who condemn and revile Mr. Cessna for his manly effort to lift this incubus from the people of Bedford county. There are those who, to their shame be it said, because Mr. Cessna's success in ousting Mr. Householder may prove injurious to their political plans or aspirations, denounce the act that restores to Bedford county the rights filched from her by the "gerrymander" of 1857! Such men can have none but venal motives. The standard of right by which they measure the conduct of others, is poised invariably by throwing their own interests in the balance. But their number is few. Disappointed office-seekers may snarl and growl—small-beer "Republican" politicians may fret and fume—but their ill-humor cannot affect the sober senses of a thinking, free and independent people. The great popular heart beats in enthusiastic approbation of the policy of Mr. Cessna,—not because it was his policy—not because of the personalities connected with it—but because thereby a great wrong has been righted, because it has restored to the people of Bedford county, the political rights guaranteed them in the fundamental law of the State.

Better Late than Never.

The question is asked, why did not Mr. CESSNA, or some of those who sympathised with him in his contest with Mr. HOUSEHOLDER, bring the constitutional question involved in the case to the notice of the legislature at former sessions? We answer that three years ago, we made in these columns the very point upon which Mr. Cessna has been awarded his seat. In conjunction with a number of the leading Democrats of the county, we frequently urged the propriety of testing the matter before the legislature. But the conclusion was always arrived at, that the people of the district would eventually arouse to the vindication of their rights and rebuke the outrageous "gerrymander" at the polls. At the late election it was ardently and confidently expected, not only by the Democrats of the county, but by the very men who now antagonize Mr. Cessna, that the choice of Bedford county would not be overruled by the people of Somerset. So deep-seated was the hope, that but few of the Anti-Householder Republicans entertained any fears of Mr. Cessna's defeat when it was found that his majority in this county, was upwards of 1000. But this hope, nevertheless, proved illusory. The grand effort to overcome the dictatorial majority of Somerset, was a failure. Notwithstanding all the Republican leaders in Bedford borough labored with all their might against Mr. Householder,—notwithstanding the unparalleled treachery to that candidate of which the very men who assisted in nominating him, were guilty—resulting in an overwhelming vote for Mr. Cessna—Somerset willed that a majority of a thousand for the Democratic candidate in this county, should go for nought and that Mr. Householder and not Mr. Cessna should represent us at Harrisburg. It was, therefore, concluded that it would be vain for the people of Bedford county to attempt to express their choice for representative, so long as it was admitted that Somerset had the right to annul that choice. Hence the determination was at last made to deny the right of Somerset to this dictatorial power and to test the issue before the proper tribunal, the House of Representatives, which could be done only in the form of a contest of the seat of Mr. Householder by Mr. Cessna. This was the only way in which the wrong could be righted. If it was a wrong, then, for Somerset county to dictate to Bedford (her equal in every respect,) was it not right that Bedford should have restored to her that constitutional protection against such dictation to which she is rightfully entitled? And was the restoration of that protection less proper because it was not claimed from the legislature at an earlier period? All admit the wrong; none will deny the justice of the remedy; therefore, the righting of the wrong, though late, was "better late than never."

☞We have been overstocked, for some time past, with obituary notices almost interminable in length, generally combining every style of elegiac writing, in prose and poetry. It is impossible for us to publish at length; all of these productions, and we hope, therefore, we will be excused if we take the liberty to curtail some of them. Other newespapers make it a rule to charge half advertising rates for all obituaries over ten lines in length. We have never demanded this, nor have we ever received a cent for publishing obituaries. But we cannot find room for so many long notices, as are showered upon us, pleased as we will be to receive and publish shorter ones. We shall be compelled to decline half and quarter column obituaries in the future, unless paid for. Meanwhile we shall freely and gladly publish them if of proper length.

CONGRESSIONAL and LEGISLATIVE.—Congress is doing nothing of much importance, except devising how to tax the people, investigating Black Republican thieving and corruption, discussing the "everlasting Nigger," and talking about expelling members. Our State Legislature is in quite a "flutter" over the propositions to investigate the doings of last session and the conduct of the Executive authorities. No important bills have yet been passed. The Governor has signed the bill giving George W. Householder $21 per day during his attendance upon the sessions of the House.

About Our Exchanges.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—MR. A. GRAHAM, SR., has retired from the publication of the Westmoreland Republican, and is succeeded by MESSRS. GEO. W. BONNIN and JAMES F. CAMPBELL. The Republican, under its new proprietorship, gives fair promise of ability and usefulness. We wish the outgoing and incoming editors abundant success.

THE VALLEY SPIRIT.—This able Democratic organ has passed into the hands of MESSRS. B. Y. HAMSHER and P. S. DECHERT, our friend GEO. H. MENGEL, the late proprietor, retiring from the concern. The Spirit has always been one of the leading Democratic journals of the State, and, we have no doubt, will remain so under the management of the new proprietors. "May the Spirit's shadow—if a spirit can have a shadow—never grow less!"

ERIE OBSERVER.—ANDREW HOPKINS, ESQ., late editor of this well conducted journal, retires from its control, and is succeeded by MESSRS. WHITMAN and BRECHT. We are sorry that our able friend, Mr. Hopkins, has seen fit to leave the editorial tripod, but console ourself for his loss, with the vigor and ability displayed by his successors. May their sheet soon become the favorably "observed of all observers!"

CHARLEY MURRAY, of the Ebensburg Democrat and Sentinel, is a brick, and if he doesn't want to be walled into the Temple of Fame, he had better quit corresponding with Old Abe, rubbing down Barker and writing about "Dog Tax."

EX-PRESIDENT JOHN TYLER, died suddenly a few days ago, at the Exchange Hotel, in Richmond, Virginia.

THE MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The Febauary number of this best of all the illustrated Magazines, is upon our table. Harper is always interesting, but the present number is especially excellent. It contains: "The Coast Rangers of California;" "Making Money;" "Orley Farm;" "Mademoiselle;" "The prisoner of War;" Washington Irving;" "General Frankie: A Story for Little People;" "The Ball is up;" "Mistress and Maid;" "The Whiskey Insurection;" "What can I do;" "Shipwreck;" "The Adventures of Philip;" "Tangled Threads;" "The Yard-Measure Extended to the Stars;" and the usual variety under the head of Editor's Table, etc.

CONTINENTAL MONTHLY.—This new candidate for public favor furnishes quite an attractive table of contents for February. It is certainly a very able and well conducted work. The present number contains articles by Ex. Gov. Boutwell, Horace Greely, A. Oakey Hall, R. B. Kimball, H. T. Tuckerman, F. W. Shelton, Charles G. Leland and other destinguished writers. The following are leading articles: "Our war and our want;" "Tints and Tones of Paris;" "The True Basis;" "The Huguenot Families in America;" "James Russell Lowell;" "Our Danger and its Cause." "The Actress Wife," "The Black Witch," "Seven Devils," and "The Heir of Roseton;" are well-written and interesting stories.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—What has become of our old friend, The Atlantic? We have not received the January number.

The Press on the Rights of Bedford County.

Of the large number of favorable notices of the contest made by Mr. CESSNA for the right of separate representation for Bedford county, we have room, this week, for but the following:—

Hon. John Cessna.

We are much pleased to observe by the Legislative proceedings published elsewhere, that the "Little Giant" of Democracy, the Hon. John Cessna, of Bedford, has been awarded his seat in the House of Representatives, which he contested with Mr. Householder, the Committee to whom his case was referred, having reported in his favor on Constitutional grounds. Mr. Cessna is an able constitutional lawyer, and a powerful advocate.—He served several sesions in the Legislature, several years ago, with distinction. He is the best parliamentarian in either house. Unfaltering in his attachment to the doctrines of the democratic party, he cannot be allured from the enthusiastic devotion of his great intellectual powers, to the support of Democratic men and measures, and in opposition to every ism and organization of hostility to the Democratic party, that has culminated in a most disastrous, destructive and disreputable civil war. We rejoice in his success, because it is just and right and because it gives to the councils of the State a pure, highminded and able statesman of the right faith.—Greensburg Argus.

☞The Harrisburg Patriot says: "The Committee of the House of representatives in the case of Cessna against Householder, on Thursday reported that Mr. Cessna was entitled to the seat as the Representative of Bedford county. He appeared and was sworn in. Mr. Cessna's ability, industry and legislative experience render him a valuable acquisition to the House." Mr. Cessna contested Mr. Householder's election on purely constitutional ground. His position was that the constitution secured to Bedford a separate Representative, and the committee so decided. This decision, we presume, will change our legislative District. Mr. Cessna is now the Representative of Bedford and not of Somerset and Bedford.—Somerset Democrat.

Mr. Cessna Takes His Seat.

The Commitee of the House of Representatives in the contested election case of CESSNA against HOUSEHOLDER reported on Friday last that Mr. CESSNA was entitled to the seat as the representative of Bedford county. He appeared and was sworn in. Mr. CESSNA will make an able, industrious and honest legislator. —Valley Spirit.

For the Bedford Gazette.

Report of the President and Directors of the Bedford Railroad Company.

Office of the Bedford R. R. Company,
Bedford, Pa., December 31, 1861.

The President and Directors of "The Bedford Rail Road Company," would respectfully submit to the stockholders the following report of the affairs and proceedings of the Company during the year ending on the 31st day of December, A. D. 1861.

The Stockholders are aware of the fact that during the year 1860, all work upon the road, except to a small extent upon sections one and two, was stopped. The same causes which operated to discontinue the work during that year, prevented any thing being done during the first nine months of the year just closed. Dull, Collins & Co., to whom the contract for the graduation and masonry of the first twelve miles or sections had been awarded in 1859, after doing a considerable amount of work, relinquished their contract, and the Company, owing to the refusal of a large majority of the stock subscribers to pay their subscriptions, being without means to prosecute the enterprise, it seemed, for a while, that all hopes of carrying it through would have to be abandoned. It had friends, however, who would not, and did not, give it up in despair, although the difficulties surrounding it appeared to be insurmountable, and the prospect was a very gloomy one, the worst feature of it being that the persons who would be most benefitted, and who at one time were anxious for the success of the project had taken a position of hostility to it. Nothing of interest transpired in the business of the company until the 24th of June last, on which day a compromise or settlement with Dull, Collins & Co. was effected, and all connection between them and the company then ceased. At that time, and soon after, six of the non-resident directors, who had been elected in January last, resigned their places, and the vacancies were filled by the appointment of citizens of the county who were known to be friendly to the improvement. Abut the first of September last through the influence and invaluable exertions of William P. Schell, Esq., who may with truth be called the father of the Bedford Rail Road, and to whom, when it is completed, the people of Bedford and its vicinity, will be more indebted for any advantages it may bring them, than to all others beside, an arrangement was made with the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company, by which, it is believed, that the first twelve miles of our road from Hopewell to a point near the turnpike about a mile and a half west of Bloody Run, will be finished and put in complete running order. The details of this arrangement cannot now be given, as the contract between the two companies has not yet been fully consummated. The important provisions of it are briefly these: The Penn'a. R. R. Co. is to pay to the Bedford R. R. Co. the sum of $18,000, in cash, of which $3,000 are to be applied to the payment in part of the $6,000 which by the settlement above mentioned with Dull, Collins & Co., our company agreed to pay them. The remainder, $15,000, is to be expended in finishing the graduation and masonry of those twelve miles. The Penn'a. R R. Co. is also to furnish the money to complete the entire superstructure, sidings, turnouts, waterstations, turn table, &c. The Bedford R. R. Co. on its part, is to issue, execute and deliver to the P. R. R. Co. two hundred bonds for $500 each, with coupons attached—the principal thereof to be paid at the end of twenty years from the date of said bonds, and the interest, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, to be paid semi-annually. These bonds are to be secured by a mortgage of said twelve miles of rail road, real estate, &c. &c. The Bedford R. R. Co. is also to execute a release to the P. R. R. Co. under and by virtue of the act, entitled "An Act for the commutation of tonnage duties." Of the above mentioned sum of $18,000, the sum of $13.000 has already been received by our company, of which the sum of $3,000 has been paid upon the judgment of Dull, Collins & Co.

Soon after the foregoing arrangement was made with the P. R. R. Co., it was determined by the board of directors to let the contracts for the completion of the graduation and masonry of the first twelve sections, and a letting was accordingly advertised, and on the 25th of September last, the contracts were awarded, as follows, viz:

Sections 1 & 2,	to James Hefner at	$2117 60
" 3, 4 & 5	to J. M. Campbell at	5620 00
" 8 & 9	to J. M. Campbell at	1757 40
" 6 & 7	to Thos. B. Keating at	1947 00
" 10, 11 & 12	" Keating at	423 00

Making the sum of $11,865 00

The work to be done will cost more than the above sum, but, it is believed, that the $15,000 received will be sufficient to complete the graduation and masonry, not including the trestle work, if it is to be considered as graduation.

The contractors have been at work upon the several portions of the road allotted to them, and the work done amounts, according to the estimates of the engineers, to the sum of $3,724, of which the sum of $3,254 has been paid to them. This does not include the work done during the present month, as the estimates of that month have not been received, owing to the illness of Mr. Butler, assistant engineer. The sum of $719 58, has also been paid to the engineer corps. Sections 1, 10, 11 & 12, are completed, and ready for the superstructure. Some of the other sections are nearly finished, and the foundation of the bridge will be ready for the timbers in about four weeks, and although the whole work has not progressed as rapidly as it should have done and as was required by the terms of the contracts, yet the board confidently expects that the graduation and masonry will be completed in time to have the superstructure put on so as to have the road in running order not later than the first of June, proximo.

The engineer of the P. R. R. Co. has advertised for proposals for the cross-ties, and the contracts for them will no doubt be made early in next month, and if no difficulty or delay arises with regard to the trestling, concerning which there is a difference of opinion between the two companies, but which, it is believed, will be easily reconciled, we can see no reason why the work should not be completed on the above named day.

The financial condition of the company is exhibited by the report of the Treasurer, a copy of which is hereto attached.

The President and Directors deeply regret that the company could not avail itself of the benefits of the act for the commutation of tonnage duties, but its utter inability to obtain the means to grade, as required by that act, five miles at each end of our road, destroyed all hope of securing the advantages of that law.

The completion of the first twelve miles of our road, being now, as we believe, a foregone conclusion, the question naturally arises, will it be extended to Bedford? How that question shall be answered depends entirely upon the citizens of Bedford county. If they will put their shoulders to the wheel, and give to the enterprize that aid which its importance deserves, there can be no doubt that, in a short time, the Bedford Rail Road will be "an accomplished fact."

By order of the Board,
S. L. RUSSELL, Pres't.

Extract from Treasurer's Report, Accompanying the above.

The Treasurer received, during the year ending Dec. 30, '61,	$13,991 97
Paid out on judgment, engineering and incidentals,	8,027 52
Leaving in the Treasury	$5,964 45

The assets of the company consist in some 573 shares of stock subscribed in the county, and a number of tracts of land subscribed, including one tract bought. The domestic debts of the company amount to $8,178 46.

To the above balance in the Treasury should be added $5,000, due from the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company, and which since making report has been paid into the Treasury.

JOHN P. REED, Treasurer.

The Mill Spring Battle.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 24.

This morning's papers contain full accounts of the Battle of Mill Spring. It was a fair open battle. The Rebels fought well and and were overcome only by superior fighting on our side. According to their own account, the Rebel force consisted of ten infantry regiments, three batteries and some Cavalry; altogether, about 10,000 men.

They fought in bush-wacking style from ravines and behind trees, bushes, and rocks. The brunt of the battle devolved on the 4th Kentucky, 2d Minnesota, 9th Ohio, and 10 Indiana. For nearly three hours the roar of musketry was kept up. Shortly after 11 o'clock Col. Haskin succeeded in flanking the enemy on the extreme right, when the 9th Ohio and 2d Minnesota charged with the bayonet, with triumphant yells, which broke the rebel ranks, and the rout began. They fled pell-mell to their camp, strewing the road with muskets, blankets, overcoats, and knapsacks, and abandoned two guns and caissons. Gen. Zollicoffer was shot through the heart at the head of his staff by Col. Fry of the 4th Ky. It appears that Gen. Zollicoffer lost his way in the bushes, and suddenly emerged before Col. Fry, who was accompained by some staff officers. The two parties mistook each other for friends and approached within a few yards of each other; when finding their mutual mistake, both parted and prepared for a hand to hand conflict. One of Gen. Zollicoffer's aids shot at Col. Fry but only brought his horse down. The Federal Colonel immediately drew his six shooter and brought Gen. Zollicoffer from his saddle at the first fire. The Rebel staff deserted their chief's body, which was taken to Somerset the day after the battle.

An East Tennesseean writing to the Commercial, says:—"All the credit and honor of this battle is due to the 10th Indiana, the 9th Ohio, the 4th Kentucky, and the 2d Minnesota Regiments, for they did all the fighting single handed, with the exception of what support they received from the artillery. They all fought nobly and never wavered from their fixed determination to gain the victory. The combatants were so near each other at one time that the powder from the discharged pieces burned their faces."

The New Secretary of War.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, who has been appointed by Mr. Lincoln to the important position of secretary of War, is a gentleman in whose ability and integrity the nation has reason to place entire confidence. We believe that the country will be in all respects, a gainer by the change that has been made. Mr. Stanton is a lawyer, and has been for many years a resident of Pittsburg, in Pennsylvania. He acquired in his profession a reputation for great ability, industry and administrative skill, and those who are best acquainted with him unite with those who know him by reputation only, in according the highest praise to his personal character, honor and integrity. Mr. Stanton is in politics, a Democrat, of a very firm principle. In accepting office under the President, it is understood that he makes no compromise of his principles. The present necessities of the nation rise altogether above political distinctions and any party names, and while the President is a Republican, and Mr. Stanton a Democrat, both are agreed in devotion to the Constitution and the Union, and in approving of a constitutional administration of the war. On the slavery question it is well known that Mr. Stanton's views, like those of the President, are firmly opposed to any of the scemes of proclaiming emancipation, or arming the slaves.

Mr. Stanton was Attorney General in the Cabinet of Mr. Buchanan, at the close of the last Administration, and was then distinguished for the firm and patriotic course which he adopted.

The appointment is said to be highly satisfactory to Gen. McClellan, and the entrance of Mr. Stanton upon office, will, perhaps, be signalized by army movements, which will show that the Commander-in-chief has been no laggard in the great war. The War Department seem now to be entitled to the confidence of of the nation.—Journal of Commerce.

War and other News.

In the United States Senate a resolution was introduced to refer the credentials of Mr. Wilson, the new Senator from Missouri, to the Judiciary Committee, but was subsequently withdrawn, and Mr. Wilson after being duly sworn in took his seat.—The case of Mr. Bright was again taken up and debated at great length.

The news from the South as derived from Southern papers via Fortress Monroe is very meagre.—Nothing definite appears to be known with regard to the Burnside expedition. The Norfolk Day Book doubts the truth of the despatches previously received, and which stated that a portion of the fleet was off Hatteras and the remainder in Pamlico Sound. The militia of the Eastern counties of North Carolina have been ordered out to repel invasion, and the Raleigh Register speaks of a draft having been made in Wake county.

A telegram from Savannah states that Cedar Keys, Florida, was captured by the Federal troops on Thursday. A telegram from Mobile reports the capture of the schooner Wilder, from Havana, whilst attempting to run the blockade.

The Norfolk Day Book publishes the Federal account of the defeat of Zollicoffer but expresses, at the same time, its disbelief in its truth. If anything is known at Richmond with regard to the affair, it has evidently not yet been made public. A despatch from Savannah announces that the Federal troops have taken possession of Cedar Keys, Florida. Vague rumors the approach of Federal troops from Cairo, of were current at Nashville and Memphis. It was doubtless, the advance of McClernand's division upon Mayfield, which gave rise to the report that the object of the movement was, in all probability, to sieze the railway and burn the bridges, and thus cut off communication between Columbus and Bowling Green. As McClernand has returned to Cairo without effecting anything, the people of Nashville and Memphis, may rest easy, at least for the present.

We can add but little to what is already published in regard to the defeat of Zollicoffer. The correspondent of the Cincinnati Times furnishes some few particulars of the fight; but there is nothing to show that the fortifications on the South bank of the Cumberland have been captured. The Confederate General Hindman is said to have been arrested, by order of General Hardee, for burning houses at Cave City and elsewhere. It is also reported that the Confederates at Bowling Green are suffering for want of Money.

An important order has been issued by the War Department in relation to the Federal prisoners now in the hands of the Confederates. By order of the Secretary of War two Commissioners are to be appointed, whose duty it will be to visit Richmond and other Southern Cities where the prisoners are confined, for the purpose of providing for their wants and contributing to their comfort.

The Bermuda Gazette announces the arrival there of Messrs. Mason and Slidell, and gives a ludicrous description of the manner in which they were transferred from Fort Warren to the British war steamer Rinaldo. The Southern Commissioners with their Secretaries, during their brief sojourn at Bermuda, were present at a dinner which was given to them and other invited guests, by Admiral Sir Alexander Milne, the naval Commander-in-Chief on the West India Station. Mr. Seward's letter to Lord Lyons, surrendering the Commissioners, is sharply criticised in the Gazette, which expresses the opinion that the British Government will be satisfied with the act done, but dissatisfied with the way in which it has been accomplished.

The Wheeling Journal in alluding to the state of affairs on the Upper Potomac, places nearly all the Confederate forces under Jackson at Romney, the Federal troops under Lander, being nine miles distant. It speaks somewhat confidently of a collision occurring between the two forces as soon as the high water in the Potomac subsides. Such too, appears to be the general impression of other western journalists, who predict that a powerful movement on that flank of the Confederates will take place at an early day. They assert that the possession of Winchester is indispensable to the protection and reconstruction of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. General Kelly has returned to Wheeling.—Maryland News Sheet.

—DIED—

ENGLAND.—On the 17th inst, in Friend's Cove, Mary Ann, daughter of William England, aged ten years, ten months and twenty six days.

SMITH.—In memory of Lily Smith, daughter of Mr. Reuben Smith, of Friend's Cove, who departed this life on the 14th day of November, 1861, aged 7 years, 10 months, and 23 days.

Her disease was diptheria, which proved brief but fatal. Lily was an uncommon child, possessing great knowledge for one of her age. She bore her affliction with a great degree of fortitude for so tender a youth, and was often heard during her illness to speak of heaven and going home to heaven to grandma, and wondering if grandma would know her when she got home to heaven. When she would see her dear mamma shedding tears over her, she would take her own little hand and wipe them from her face and say, "why do you fret so? It is better for me to die than for you. Don't cry for me, I am going home to heaven to grandma and to aunt Martha." And when the scene was about closing, her tender eyes glowing with affection, her blooming cheeks growing pale, her pulse weak, her voice faltering, she said, "Raise me up for I am dying, I am dying," and embracing the dear ones around her, and with her little brother in her arms she peacefully breathed her last. Fond parents, dry your tears and be comforted with the words of Jesus:

I take these little lambs, said He,
And lay them in my breast,
Protection they shall find in me,
And be forever blest.

Death may the bands of life unloose,
But can't dissolve my love,
Millions of infant souls compose
The family above.

These words ye happy parents hear,
And shout with joys divine,
Dear Savior, all we have and are,
Shall be forever thine.

LINES

ON THE DEATH OF ANNIE AMANDA COOK, respectfully inscribed to her bereaved parents.

Weep not for Annie the darling one;
They've laid her down to rest,
Her body's in the quiet tomb,
Her spirit's with the blest.

Weep not for Annie; the sainted one,
Do not in anguish bow;
For, though thine idol's torn away,
She is an angle now.

Weep not for Annie; she dwells on high,
Where sorrows never come;
Far from this earth of sin and care,
Her Savior called her home.

Weep not for Annie; the lovely child,
E'en though the tie is riven;
The bud is only nipped on earth;
The flower blooms in heaven.

Weep not for Annie; with thy heart,
Let no wild sorrow stir;
She never more returns to us
But we can go to her.

Ayer's Pills.

ARE you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness or Constipation. As a Dinner Pill they are both agreeable and effectual.

PRICE 25 CTS. PER BOX, OR FIVE BOXES FOR $1. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

IS a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Tic Doloreux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, thro' which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting thro' the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with the pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1 per bottle; Six Bottles in one package, $5.

THE SOLDIER'S TRUE FRIEND!

ALWAYS READY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Long marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the Soldier must endure. MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS, when your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a single pot of this ALL HEALING and COOLING Salve will give to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for

Sabre Cuts and Gunshot Wounds,

It stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflammation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightful wounds.

Wives and Sisters of our Volunteers.

You cannot put into the Knapsacks of your Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable or more necessary gift than a supply of this Extraordinary Military Salve.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized with most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGH and SUFFOCATING HOARSENESS, first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted. A few Pills taken night and morning, and the Ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing and DANGEROUS COUGH. Therefore we say to the whole Army,

Soldiers Attention!

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the Armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the SOLDIER IN CAMP,

Diarrhea, Dysentery, Scurvy, Sores & Scrofulous Eruptions,

all disappear like a charm before these PILLS and OINTMENT, and now while the cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get sooner in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find a sure remedy there for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cts, and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

January 10, 1862.

Attention Company!—Volunteers who except to retain their health unimpaired during the campaign, must see to it themselves, do not trust to the Army Surgeons, supply yourselves with HOLLIWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT Every English Soldier's Knapsack contains them, only 25 cts. per Box or Pot.

THE CONFESSIONS and EXPERIENCE of a SUFFERER.—Published as a warning, and for the especial benefit of Young Men and those who suffer with Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Premature Decay, &c. &c. &c., by one who has cured himself by simple means, after being put to great expense and inconvenience, thro' the use of worthless medicines prescribed by learned Doctors.

Pennsylvania Hospital.

(FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.)

MAY 19, 1860.—Ellen S., æt. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Saturday; while engaged in house-cleaning she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold but had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began to swell, which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call your attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifics; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23. 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains, every two hours, (intermitting it at night). The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from chronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and tense. She took the chloride of propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily.

In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict in favor of propylamine.

He is a seaman, æt. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen tense and tender. His tongue is furred; skin, at present, dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90. He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case at a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

JUNE 9, 1860.—The next of our convalescents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 28th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chlorids of Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.

BEDFORD COUNTY, SS.

AT a Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, held at Bedford, in and for said county of Bedford, on the 18th day of November, A. D. 1861, before the Judges of the same Court.

Upon the petition of the freeholders residing in the vicinity of Boydstown, in said county, setting forth "that two public alleys, were laid out in the said town of Boydstown, in the year 1816, by Rev. Alexander Boyd, the proprietor, and then private owner; both beginning at points on the Bedford and Stoystown Turnpike Road, upon the South, and running thence North 57 degrees East to the old State Road on the North. The one of the length of —— feet and the other of the length of —— feet; and both of the width of 16 feet, the first being the alley between lots Nos. 41 and 42; and the second the alley between Nos. 45 and 46, so numbered upon the original and general plot or plan of said town of Boydstown; also, three other alleys, beginning at points on the Turnpike road aforesaid on the South, and running thence North thirty degrees East to said old State road aforesaid. The one of the length of —— feet, next of the length of —— feet, all of the width of 16 feet, the same being the alleys between Nos. 23 and 25, and 15 and 17, and 7 and 9, so numbered upon the original plot or plan of said town of Boydstown, also, three other alleys laid out as aforesaid in said town, South of the Turnpike road aforesaid, all beginning at points on said Turnpike on the North, and running thence South thirty degrees West, two hundred and twenty feet to a twenty feet alley, the same being alleys between lots Nos. 8 and 10, and 16 and 18, and 24 and 26, and 32 and 34, so numbered upon the original plot or plan of said town of Boydstown; also, the 20 feet alley on the Southern side of said town-plot, which said alleys have become useless, inconvenient, and burdensome to the inhabitants of said town and vicinity.

Wherefore the Court do order and direct that the parties in interest be notified by publication in the county papers to appear at the next Court of Quarter Sessions to show cause why the prayer of petitioners should not be granted.

NO person who contemplates purchasing a Sewing Machine for family or manufacturing purposes should fail to send for one of our Circulars, which contains cuts and full descriptions of the several styles, prices and samples of work, all of which we send by mail free. We claim to have the

BEST SEWING MACHINES IN THE WORLD

For either Family or Manufacturing Purposes. And all we ask is a fair trial. Read the following:

IMPORTANT FACTS.

FACT No. 1.—This Company being duly licensed, their Machines are protected against infringements or litigation.

FACT No. 2.—These Machines make the lock-stitch—alike on both sides—and use a little less than half as much thread and silk as the chain or loop-stitch machines.

FACT No. 3.—These Machines are better adapted than any other sewing-machines in market to the frequent changes and almost endless variety of sewing required in a family. They will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect. They will even sew from the finest gauze to the heaviest cloth, and even stout, hard leather, without changing the feed, needle, or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever.—Is not such a machine best adapted to family use? and if best adapted to family use, why not for every variety of light sewing manufacture? For work too heavy for our Family Machine, we recommend our larger sizes.

FACT No. 4.—These Machines make the most elastic seam of any sewing-machine in use—a fact of very great importance in sewing elastic goods, or goods of any kind, or a bias.

FACT No. 5.—No Machine is more durable or more simple in its construction, or more easily understood. The reputation of these Machines wherever used will fully demonstrate each of the above facts.

FACT No. 6—These Machines took the Highest Premium at the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

FACT No. 7—These Machines took the Highest Premium at the New Jersey State Fair.

FACT No 8.—These Machines took the Highest Medal at the American Institute, in the City of New York, together with the Highest Premium for fine Sewing-Machine Work.

FACT No. 9—These Machines took both the Highest Premiums at the Mechanics' Fair, Utica,

FACT No. 10.—These Machines can do the same thing generally, whenever properly exhibited in competition with other first-class Sewing Machines. But we have space for only one fact more—it is the most important Fact of all

FACT No. 11.—We warrant every Machine we sell to give better satisfaction than any other Sewing Machine in market, or money refunded.

LIGHTE & BRADBURYS'
PATENT INSULATED FULL IRON FRAME NEW SCALE, GRAND, AND SQUARE PIANO FORTES.

THE INSULATED FRAME preserves the original tone of the instrument in all its purity, securing it for all time against that most disagreeable nequality of tone invariably found in all other Iron Frame Piano Fortes. It greatly strengthens the case, and thus keeps the Piano Forte much longer in tune. It gives the instrument a much fuller, richer, and sweeter tone. It adapts the Piano to all climates, and to all changes of atmosphere, and in all respects it is pronounced by our best "artistes" the greatest improvement of the age in Piano Forte construction; producing an instrument acknowledged to be superior to all others made in this country or Europe.

A few testimonials from some of the most eminent Pianists and Musician in the world, in regard to the Superiority of our New Scale Patent Insulated Piano Fortes.

"I have examined the Piano Fortes of Lighte & Bradbury's with entire satisfaction. I know not that there are any others better, either in our own country or elsewhere.

"DR. LOWELL MASON."

"In clearness, richness, and volume of tone, delicacy, elasticity of touch, and fine repeating action, I have never played upon their equal.

"H. A. WOLLENHAUPT."

"In volume, richness, evenness and purity of tone, and in delicacy of touch, they certainly excel, and in that beautiful singing quality so desirable, yet so seldom found.

WILLIAM MASON."

"I have never played upon so rich and heavy a tone Square Piano Forte.

"ARTHUR NAPOLEON."

"I am astonished and delighted with the New Scale Iron Frame Piano Fortes made by you. There must be a splendid future for Lighte & Bradbury's Piano Fortes.

"GEO. F. ROOT."

"I have never played upon so fine an instrument.

"GEO. F. BRISTOW."

"I consider them as to beauty, richness, fullness, and equality of tone, as well as their agreeable, elastic touch, equal, if not superior, to any Pianos made in this country or Europe

KARL WELS."

"They have all the requirements for a superior interpretation of both classical and modern compositions.

"MAURICE STRAKOSH."

"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony of the many artistes who speak in the highest terms to the superior excellence of your New Scale Patent Insulated Iron Frame Piano Fortes, and I must say that your New Scale very far surpasses all your former efforts, producing an instrument far superior in all the excellencies that constitute a perfect Piano Forte, to any with which I am acquainted.

"THEO. EISFELD."

"Having examined your New Scale Iron Frame Pianos, we must express our delight and pleasure at their superior excellence. For their peculiar rich volume of tone, fine elastic touch, and in all the requisites necessary for perfection in the instrument, we must say, in all our experience, we have seen nothing to compare with them, and we can most cordially recommend them to our friends and the public

"CHAS. FRADEL."
"CARL BERGMAN."

"I like much pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of the beautiful Pianos which I have recently seen made by your firm. In power, quantity, and equality of tone, they certainly excel; while for that peculiarly rich, singing tone, that is so invaluable as an accompaniment to the voices sustaining and blending with it, I have rarely me, with their equal.

"C. BASSINI."

"It is with pleasure I give my testimony to the excellence of your Pianos in general, and especially to the admirable new invention of Mr. Lighte, my improvement which I regard as the most important yet made in the manufacture of first-class instruments.

"LOUIS ERNST."

"I take pleasure in stating my favorable opinion of your New Scale Iron Frame Piano Fortes. Among many superior Piano Fortes manufactured in New York, they certainly must rank second to none of them for strength, purity, and richness of tone, together with extraordinary vibratory qualities. I have also had frequent opportunities, in the schools, during the past four years, to notice the durability of your instruments, and this under severe and unremitted trials.

"GEO. H. CURTIS."

"The high reputation which they have obtained for their fine brilliant tone, pleasant touch and power, have given them the preference over those of all other manufactures, in the Public Schools of New York, in which over one hundred are now in daily use, some twelve or fifteen of which are in departments where I have had the pleasure of teaching, and where I have used them for the last five years.

"MARCUS COLBURN."

"Being pleased with your steady progress in improving the quality of your Pianos, I cannot refrain from saying to you, after some fourteen years knowledge of them, that the New Scale with Iron Frame, which I have seen, I think the best Piano I ever saw. I say this after having purchased over two hundred of your Piano Fortes.

"F. H. NASH."
